

TRAVEL INFORMATION for CHINA 2019

Enclosed in this package you will find a labeled folder containing:

Your passport(s) (for most of you – unless you did your own visas or already have yours back through special arrangements). Make sure your passport is signed. Add in PENCIL your emergency contact information.

NOTE: - since our guides will be collecting & handing passports often, I've added your passport name on a label to the front cover if none is there already. It really helps them to spot each name without having to open each passport when handing them back – I will bring labels to China for those whose passports I do not currently have.

Air China Flight information from Asia Holiday Travel - a copy of your E-ticket information is included in this package for the international flights on Air China (except for those few doing their own). All flights use these E-tickets now and are stored only in the airline computers – the copy is ONLY for your records (which means there is no risk if lost). Your passport is all you need to check in for the flights - plus your flight # & departure date for the In'tl flights. On that printout you may also spot some or all of the domestic flights. Our guides will collect our passports at the airports and obtain our boarding passes for us – our checked bags will already be collected and checked in for us as well. They will also take care of any changes in flights or times that could occur (very rare, though). When they hand out the boarding passes and return your passports, you may find you are not seated next to your traveling partner since these are run out through their computer in a somewhat random order. This is when some Yankee trading can occur – or you can look at it as an opportunity to get to know your fellow travelers better!

The following enclosures are in each package for your reference (couples share just one) and include the following:

(Note: most use two-sided sheets - don't forget to turn each over)

1. This cover letter (2 sheets double-sided)
2. Printout of flight info from AHT with Security tips on reverse along with a copy of your E-ticket showing most flights
3. Travel tips from Asia Holiday Travel (2 sided) – you will enjoy some of the phraseology in “Chinglish”
4. Hotel sheet (single-sided)
5. Itinerary – (2 sided) in color as shown on the web site – basic description of each day
6. Map of China (shows the routing for the 17-Day Tour with Yangtze River cruise + Weather Chart on reverse side (temps are usually warmer than the averages described since we travel in the second half of March))
7. Calendar (2-sided)
8. Money Matters + Chinese Currency (2-sheets (double-sided + 1 sheet double-sided))
9. Tipping Chart (2 sided)
10. SUMMATION Guide for TIPPING + USD Bills Guide for ordering from your bank (PER PERSON on one side / PER COUPLE or TWOSOME traveling together on reverse)
11. Tip Envelope Guide (single-sided)
12. A sheet of labels for TIP envelopes – ready to stick on & marked to guide you to make it easier to know when to disburse - PLUS 1 plain paper printout of labels showing suggested amounts (RED per person + BLUE per couple)
13. Weather & Clothing
14. Luggage & Packing Tips
15. Electrical, Laptops, E-mail, & Int'l Cell Phone Usage
16. Medications & Health
17. Food & Drink
18. POTTY Protocol, BUS Bits, HOTEL Habits, Misc. Tips, & CALL HOME guide
19. “Know Before You Go” Checklist + sample China Entry & Departure Cards
20. TSA & US Customs information + US Customs Declaration Form Instructions & Sample
21. Free Day in Shanghai – more Touring or Shopping PLUS Chinese Zodiac signs on reverse (find YOURS)
22. CHINESE (Mandarin) translation of common words & phrases + numbers by hand sign or words on reverse – you can carry with you BUT you do NOT need to learn.
23. Your invoice showing PAID in FULL
24. A manila envelope into which you can store all your China receipts – You should add another envelope to hold photocopies of your traveling companion's passport, credit cards, etc., and hide it in your carry-on bag.
25. Hotel Info sheet + Itinerary in plastic sheet cover (black & white - one per person) - place on top of clothing inside main section of your 1 checked bag pp so you can be found easily (for the VERY rare case a bag is ever misplaced)
26. One medium manila envelope – use to store receipts and log information on the outside – handy for US Customs on Return to the US (OK for $800 per person free – details in Item #20 sheet))

PLUS: (per person)

- 1 Bag Tag PLUS 1 Name Tag in a clear plastic sleeve with 1 blue lanyard attached (can cut or knot to shorten if needed). I have added your names to the name and bag tags per instructions from the operator. That plastic sleeve is also a handy place to store your hotel room card when out and about. (I have placed the RED bag tag inside the passport where the CHINA visa stamp is located - those who are just getting their passports back.

Wearing your name tag in a plastic sleeve on a lanyard prevents losing it (as happens too often when pinned instead on your clothing & accidentally sent out with the laundry). Many folks will also use the plastic sleeve to hold the hotel room card as well.

NOTE: Our tour is actually arranged for us each year through Asia Holiday Travel, owned and operated by Mr. K.C. Ma (he will join us in Guilin - you will truly enjoy him). We met in 2001 when on one of his tours and have been in partnership with him for this annual tour ever since - and share a strong friendship as well. The Itinerary sheet and some of the other enclosures are actually produced by his staff on our behalf, some of which I have added to or changed a wee bit (hence some of the non-standard wording most of which I have chosen to keep with its Chinese/English "Chinglish" flavor).

NAME TAGS, BAGGAGE TAGS, and BUSES:

Asia Holiday Travel provides each of you one name tag and one baggage tag (for your one checked bag over to and throughout China. Please add an ID tag of your own for BOTH your one carry-on and your one checked bag as a back-up. The Asia Holiday Travel BAG TAG will show your last name followed by your first name as shown on your passport. The NAME TAG shows your preferred first name or nickname (per your reservation form) in BOLD followed by your last name in smaller size.

NOTES for those using their own airlines to/from China --- do NOT add the tour bag tag until after arriving at the hotel in Beijing. You need to start wearing your name tag for your 1st breakfast at the hotel. *****

Asia Holiday Travel asks everyone to please wear your "Asia Holiday Travel" name badge (on the lanyard) beginning with check-in at the San Francisco Airport and throughout the tour for purposes of group recognition & identification by their representatives and tour guides. I add your names to their name badges to aid us all in getting to know one another. We have also provided lanyards with clear sleeves for your name badges which we find easier to handle than remembering to pin and unpin the name badge each day (and results in fewer getting lost with no replacement possible). It is also handy for placing other items inside, behind the badge (such as your hotel room "keycard" and/or a credit card wrapped in a piece of paper or foil, and/or the hotel business card).

Re: baggage tags: I have added your last name first, followed by your first name as it appears in your passport in order to match the manifest the guides must use for check-in at the airports. You should also add you own bag tag as a back-up. The "Asia Holiday Travel" tag itself tells folks in China to contact AHT if a bag is ever found wandering on its own (EXTEMEELY rare). Then it can be sent to the right group at the right place to catch up with its owner.

I have provided each person a clear plastic page holder which already has inside an extra copy of the hotel information sheet (with dates) and a B & W copy of the itinerary. Please add to that a photocopy of your ID (driver's license and/or passport) on top and then place this sheet on top in your checked bag if you want to improve your chances of getting your bag quickly should the tag come off. Add something special to the handle - like a unique ribbon, etc. - to distinguish your bag from the rest of the bags. BE SURE you are getting YOUR bag from the baggage claim area at each airport. MANY bags now look alike as do many special ribbons, tags, or bands used to make them stand out. SO far only 1 bag has ever gone missing over all these years of our tour but showed up soon thereafter. Only once have two people gotten one another's lookalike bag in error.

FLIGHT INFORMATION:

Most of our tour group (minus a few who have made their own air travel arrangements) will be traveling to/from China on Air China (code "CA"), a code-sharing partner with United Airlines' Star Alliance (not to be confused with China Air (code "CI"), Taiwan's airline). You are welcome to check for yourself, but the information for the past several years is that no airline will now count any group air travel towards a rewards program such as United's Mileage Plus due to its VERY low airfare. You can't apply these miles for an upgrade nor can you count these miles towards your program.

The enclosed flight information sheet describes your flight times and flight numbers.

Air China is located in the International Terminal of San Francisco Airport – Aisle 3 (just past United Airlines). Their group check-in desk will open by 11:30 AM. You cannot proceed through security to the gate until at least 11:30 AM. Asia Holiday staff will be there to assist you with the check-in process and Air China will be in charge of you in flight.

If you were unable to get a seat assignment to your liking in advance, check in early and ask the Asia Holiday Travel rep ("Yong" - the son of KC Ma and a great help to me all year) to help you if possible to get it changed. Some seats are not available in advance for booking - cancellations & no-shows also produce possible new choices.

Yong has a very special relationship with Air China and has been able to assist many in getting special seat assignment issues resolved at check-in. He always does his best for our group.

A word to the wise – jet lag is made much worse by the intake of alcohol (don't ask us how we know this), so minimize this as able and keep hydrated with LOTS of water. It is also VERY important to flex your feet and legs often and to get up and move about as often as practicable. Be aware that when one person reclines his/her seat, it impacts on the person behind considerably and can make the use of the tray table difficult and the ability for the person behind to be able to get up and get out to use the restroom, etc. Cooperation is encouraged by all. We will be together, so follow that old Golden Rule for all our sakes. Be thoughtful of one another. Also, bring reading material and/or an iPad or etc., in case you don't like the onboard entertainment offered. English language audio will also be available as a choice. Wi-Fi is not permitted on any China aircraft and Economy does not have power ports for recharging your electronics – be aware.

You will be flying 12 hours nonstop from San Francisco to Beijing to land and disembark there. Just follow the crowd as you disembark. It will head towards immigration control where you will step up from behind a brass line in the floor ONE AT A TIME as they nod to you to come forward. There they will examine your passport and visa and take a digital photo of you (standard in most countries now).

Once you have passed through immigration control, you will proceed directly to baggage claim and grab a free baggage cart (available at all airports in China) – push down on the handle to release the brake. Put all your bags on the cart (will usually hold everything for 2 people), proceed on out the secure area (you will pass by China Customs but no one has ever been pulled aside). When you emerge, look for Larry and me and our National guide and our local City Guide (one of whom will be holding the Asia Holiday Travel flag). Once we have gathered each bus group together, we will proceed on out and leave our checked bags to be transported separately to the hotel while we load our carry-on into the belly of our buses and ride to the hotel. The ride will take about one hour depending on traffic and weather. Our National & City Guides will introduce themselves and give a little orientation and hand out the hotel room cards - & collect your passports to be copied overnight & returned to you the next day.

You will go to your hotel rooms (the elevator requires using your room card key to operate going UP) and await the arrival of your checked luggage (tips for ALL luggage handling have already been paid by us for the WHOLE tour). Since you will be experiencing not only jet lag but also a significant change in time zones, you may well awaken very early. The breakfast buffet is on the main floor past the lobby and usually opens around 6:30 AM local time. Wear your name tag for admittance.

Some notes on each segment of the tour:

- BEIJING – Sights here will include Tiananmen Square, Forbidden City, Summer Palace, the Great Wall, Asia's largest Aviation Museum among our stops with a Peking Dinner during our last full day in Beijing. The hotel is great and you can cross the small side street to a huge mall full of shops and eateries (most on the 3rd floor) – and a large grocery and drugstore are located below ground.
- Flight to Yichang; then Bus ride to the Cruise ship– After a mostly free day in Beijing, we will head to the airport in the mid-afternoon and fly to Yichang on this new service by Air China. Dinner will probably be onboard the cruise ship after our arrival unless delays cause a change to this.
- CRUISE SHIP – We will be assigned 2 adjacent round dining room tables (each seat a maximum of 10) for our one bus with open seating for each meal. All meals on this newest & largest ship will be via their gorgeous buffet except for the Farewell Banquet which will be served at the tables. We may be assigned special dining instead in their private dining facility – will advise after we are on board. The ship has two elevators, an indoor pool, and a fabulous top deck (only level not served by an elevator) for observing our passage through the Three Gorges.
- THREE GORGES DAM Visitor's Center – while security prevents touring inside the dam, the visitor's center is excellent in showing the whole story.
- SHENNONG STREAM (or LESSOR THREE GORGES) – this is the day that you need to have local Chinese money ready for tipping the "Trackers" if the river flow permits the Shennong Stream choice. A medium ship will take us from our cruise ship for about 45 min. to the dock where we will board the peapod boats. Each bus group will also have a local guide for the whole experience. You will love this! If the the river flow prevents this experience, they have an excellent replacement option, however.
- FENGDU (City of Ghosts) or WANZHOU (aka WANXIAN) – regardless of choice (based on river flow), we normally get to visit a local school and visit with kindergartners, tour a relocation home of someone moved because of the rising waters from the new dam, and tour a local open-air food market. It is not required but OK to bring small gifts for the children (stickers, etc. - they do not eat candy).
- CHONGQING – We will visit the Gen. "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell home that was also his WW II HQ, and a Flying Tigers museum across the street. NOTE: Chongqing is famous for BANYAN TREE LEAVES on which you will find fine paintings

& etchings - incredible artwork - these often cost around $30 USD (but bargain) as they make great gifts for framing upon return home (flat & weigh nothing).

- CHENGDU – We take a 2-hour hi-speed rail trip NW in the afternoon and visit the main Giant Panda Breeding Center (many babies) the next day. Our incredible hotel has a great buffet on the lower level as well as menu options for our dinner on our own.
- GUILIN is the Garden spot and the most painted area of all China – unusual topography – home of a major WW II Flying Tigers airfield & the site of the new 16,000 sq. ft. Flying Tigers Guilin Heritage Park & Museum on which we have been personally collaborating and the new home of “Buzz Buggy” the C47 that Larry and crew flew there from near Sydney, AU in 2016 over the “Hump” (Himalayas) – a saga that took 96 days instead of the expected 8-10 days.

The Lijiang “Waterfall” Hotel is in a great location and is across from one of 4 connected lakes – this one features 2 lighted pagodas (which you can access through an underwater tunnel) and adjacent to a strolling street of shops and vendors (around to your left when you emerge from the hotel). There is a lovely nightly 10 min. waterfall show (around 8 PM?) across the front of the hotel. Watch your belongings as pickpockets are known to also be there.

March 30th will be an all-day affair at the Park & Museum with a dedication for the new glass-walled building now housing the WW II C47 “Buzz Buggy.” You will have ample time to explore the park, museum, the Command Cave, and the new building housing the airplane (which should be opened for you to clamber aboard to explore). We will be moved to a nearby new Sheraton for our evening’s special VIP Banquet that may include a local cultural performance.

Our second full day in Guilin, we will cruise the Li River for a very pastoral experience. You will also tour caverns and a tea plantation on our last day in Guilin before we fly to Xi’an.

- XI’AN – home of the 8000 Clay Soldiers, Tang Dynasty show, dumpling dinner & the only ancient city wall still intact, it is also famous for lacquer furniture and crafts as well as jade.
- SHANGHAI – This is a coastal city which is often overcast and can often experience light drizzle. Don’t forget to have a little umbrella and/or a wrap in your tote bag with you on the bus. We will tour Old Town Shanghai and the YuYuan Gardens, and see a terrific acrobatic show in the evening. Once in Shanghai, you can shop till you drop – within reason – especially on our last full day there, our FREE DAY.
- SUZHOU is known both as the “Venice of China” and the “Silk Capital of the World and is also famous for silk embroidery, especially its two-sided examples which are different on each side. Men are the most famous for this art! Here you will also take a lovely ride on a small boat on the ancient Grand Canal and then stroll through the Masters of the Nets Gardens before visiting the No. 1 Silk Factory to learn the whole art from start to finish.

Larry and I will be flying to China three days ahead of you in order to meet with staff and make final preparations for the tour. I will remain in E-mail contact. Asia Holiday Travel will also be staffed to assist you should something come up after I have left for China. It is VERY IMPORTANT to contact them if you find you must cancel at the last minute. Otherwise their agent will be scouring the airport looking for you! Call them at (800) 944-6630.

We plan to greet you at the Beijing Capital International Airport upon your arrival in Beijing and have bottled water waiting for you on the buses. Asia Holiday Travel has arranged to always have cases of bottled water aboard the buses as a courtesy to you and to promote good health – two free bottles per person per day (usually $1 per additional bottle after that). Your hotel will provide 2 small free bottles per day. If you also open the Evian or etc., you will be charged – same for contents of the mini-bar.

A serious reminder:

*NEVER, NEVER, NEVER pack your passport in your checked bag OR carry-on bag !!! The safest place to carry your passport is in a waist or neck travel pouch that can be worn under (or on top of) your outer clothing - along with your credit cards and cash. You can find these in any travel department, drug store, Walmart, or via Magellan’s catalogue. Do not carry your passport when out for the day touring and/or shopping. It is best to store these in your hotel room safe or in the safety deposit box available on board the cruise ship except for days we fly or take the hi-speed bullet train. Your passport MUST be on your person and ready for use for the flights to/from China & on each of the days we fly to the next city. Have it at the ready BEFORE leaving the hotel and boarding the bus for each flight.

I am sure there are still things I have forgotten, but I suspect I have already killed you with enough over-kill! Larry and I look forward to seeing you all in China. The only hard part about the whole tour is getting there because of the distance and the time change! After that, it is all wonderful! We are confident you will love the experience and will make memories for a lifetime. We look forward to sharing this great adventure with you.

Xie Xie and Zai jian ! (Chinese Pinyin for “Thank you” and “Goodbye”)

See you in China -- “China Nina” (aka “9er”) and Capt. Larry “Sez”
