*China Domestic Airlines may adjust their flight schedule without prior notice. If it happens, our tour guides will take care of it in China.

Please wear your “Asia Holiday Travel” name badge when you check in at San Francisco International Airport and all the way in China for the purpose of group recognition.

* Please make sure to arrive to the San Francisco INTERNATIONAL TERMINAL no later than 11 AM on 03/15/2017 for checking-in the flight.

DEPARTURE: SFO / PEK

CA986 15 MAR Depart from San Francisco 2:50 PM
16 MAR Arrive in Beijing next day 5:55 PM +1

RETURN: SHA / PEK / SFO

CA1590 31 MAR Depart from Shanghai HongQiao city airport 8:55 AM
Arrive at Beijing 11:10 AM
CA985 31 MAR Switch aircraft at Beijing 3:40 PM (Departure)
Arrive 31 MAR at San Francisco 12:20 PM

 When you check-in on 31 MAR at the downtown Shanghai HongQiao Airport (airport code “SHA”), you will have your luggage checked all the way to San Francisco. On this return flight, you will make one stop in Beijing for switching aircraft and will remain in the secure area but use the small in-terminal people-mover “train” to change from the domestic to International gate areas at Beijing.

Luggage: we suggest that each person bring one carry-on bag and one checked bag (max. 44 lbs) while you enter China, for China domestic flights only allow one carry-on bag and one 44 lb. checked bag per person. For your return flight, you still may bring TWO checked bags weighing up to 50 lbs. EACH plus one carry-on bag. If you have more (additional pieces, and/or over-weight, and/or over-sized), you will incur substantial additional charges.

Thank you for your attention and traveling with Asia Holiday Travel.

SECURITY TIPS FOR AIR TRAVELERS

Before You Leave

When you are preparing for your trip, remember to pack smart — pack safe. You cannot bring the items listed below on your person or in carry-on luggage.

- Knives of any length, composition, or description.
- All cutting and puncturing instruments. This includes pocketknives, carpet knives and box cutters, ice picks, straight razors, metal scissors, and metal nail files.
- Corkscrews.
- Athletic equipment that could be used as a weapon, such as baseball/softball bats, golf clubs, pool cues, ski poles, and hockey sticks.
- Weapons — firearms, ammunition, gunpowder, mace, tear gas, or pepper spray.
- Aerosol spray cans — hair spray, deodorant, insect repellent, or butane fuel (such as in curling iron refills, scuba tanks, propane tanks, cartridges, and self-inflating rafts).
- Explosives — fireworks, sparklers, or signal flares.
- Flammable liquids or solids — fuel, paints, paint thinners
- Other hazardous items -- dry ice, gas-powered tools, wet-cell batteries, camping equipment with fuel, radioactive materials, poisons, infectious substances
- Leave gifts unwrapped. Airline security personnel will open gifts if the X-ray scan cannot determine the contents
- If in doubt, don't pack it.

Allow Extra Time

- Arrive early. Heightened airport security measures increase the time needed to check in. Arriving at the airport two hours before your domestic flight's scheduled departure (3 for International) is advisable. Build in more time at the airport if traveling with young children, infants, or persons with disabilities.
- Consider taking public transportation to the airport, if possible. Parking and curbside access will be controlled and limited.
- Curbside check-in is available only at specific locations. Contact your airline to see if it is available for your flight.
- Do not leave your car unattended in front of the terminal. Security measures dictate that unattended cars will be towed.

At the Airport

- Watch your bags and personal belongings at all times.
- Do not accept packages from strangers.
- If you see unattended bags or packages anywhere in the airport terminal or parking area, immediately report them to a security officer or other authority.
- Report any suspicious activities or individuals in the airport or parking lot to airport security.
- Don't joke about having a bomb or firearm. Don't discuss terrorism, weapons, explosives, or other threats while going through the security checkpoint. The mere mention of words such as "gun," "bomb," etc., can compel security personnel to detain and question you. They are trained to consider these comments as real threats.

Checking In

- Adult passengers must bring a government-issued photo ID. The FAA requires that air carrier's request government-issued identification, such as a driver's license or draft card, if the passenger appears old enough to have an ID. If a government-issued photo ID is not available, bring two pieces of ID, one of which must be from a governmental authority.
- E-ticket travelers should check with their airline to make sure they have proper documentation.
- Automated kiosks are available for airlines that have appropriate security measures in place. Travelers interested in this option should check with their airlines.
- Be prepared to answer questions about your bags. When asked who packed your bags and if you might have left them unattended at any time, think carefully and answer the questions honestly. Criminals may use unsuspecting passengers to carry bombs or other dangerous items onto aircraft.
- Be cooperative as screeners ask to hand-search your bags. Security personnel will search a bag if the X-ray scan cannot determine its contents.

Screener Checkpoints

- Only ticketed passengers are allowed beyond the screener checkpoints, unless a passenger requires parental oversight or must be accompanied by a medical assistant.
- Travelers are limited to one carry-on bag and one personal item (e.g., purse or briefcase).
- Electronic items, such as laptop computers and cell phones, may be subjected to additional screening. Be prepared to remove your laptop from its travel case so it can be X-rayed separately.

On the Airplane

- Listen carefully to the flight attendant's safety instructions. Note where the closest exit to your seat is located.
- Wear your seat belt.
- Report unattended items to your flight attendant.
